

Ralph Tandy Meacham.

Under a mound of flowers in Riverside Cemetery the remains of Ralph Tandy Meacham, the youngest of the three sons of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Meacham, were laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the presence of hundreds who loved the young man for what he was—a noble, high-minded Christian boy. Those who have seen him grow from boyhood to youth and from youth to young manhood, have known him to be all that is honorable and true. Those who knew of his aspiration to rise beyond mediocrity in the world of action and usefulness, do not wonder that when a mere boy he conceived the idea of giving his life to the service of his country, and with this desire growing daily upon him he applied himself to his studies with a zeal that knew no bounds and kept him in the forefront of his classes and won the confidence of his tutors.

The proud moment of his life came when he was informed that both his physical and mental examination for a cadetship at Annapolis were successful, he having been named for the place by Hon. A. O. Stanley. In June, 1910, he entered upon his studies and his progress, under most rigid requirements, was simply a reproduction of his record in the schools of the city where he was born and where he had studied and learned to love success and leadership. Then it was that his friends began to predict for him a great future, a career of distinction that might eventually place him upon Kentucky's roll of army and naval officers.

The familiar quotation, "Death loves a shining mark," is, alas! too true. We know it is true, and when Ralph Meacham was called to duty when our country was paying its tribute to Admiral Robley Evans, Death was mingling in the cortege and touched the life of the young Midshipman. In the face of most inclement weather the young men stood their ground as true heroes, though many of them contracted severe colds, Ralph being one of them. But still he labored on and was as diligent in his studies as ever.

Then when the remains of Paul Jones, another of America's naval heroes, were brought from France, the Midshipmen took part in the honors, even though the weather was the worst, it has been said, ever known. Death was again in the ranks and one he, another there, was stricken and Ralph Meacham was again a mark.

He never got over the fresh cold taken that day, when his uniform was frozen after being soaked for hours in a winter rain. But still he kept up his studies with all his waning vigor and did not give up until placed in the hospital, late in May, when it was found that his lungs were involved.

Just a year ago he came home for a brief visit, en route to Colorado. Soon after he proceeded to the Government hospital at Las Animas, Col. It was hoped that the pure air of that high altitude and outdoor living might stay the hand of death. But nothing that could be done by a loving mother, who spent months with him, could avail. All the efforts of faithful nurses and skilled physicians were in vain, and Friday afternoon the brief career of a noble boy came to an untimely end with mother and father by his side, and his spirit went back to the God who gave it.

LAST WEEK OF SCHOOLS

City Public Schools Will Close With Exercises at Tabernacle.

THERE ARE 24 GRADUATES.

Henry Clay Debating Society at Baptist Church Last Night.

The younger children, as well as many of the older, are now counting the days when the time will come for laying aside their books and forgetting study for the summer months. The college girls and boys are longing for the day when they are to go back to their homes and see the home folks again.

Thursday night the commencement exercises will be held at Union Tabernacle. The commencement address will be delivered by Judge J. T. Hanbery.

The graduation class this year is composed of fifteen young ladies and nine young men. Their names are:

Misses Berthine Bartley, Elizabeth Olivia Brethitt, Florence Rosetter Bush, Fannie Long Campbell, Mabel Violette Cayce, Emma Leigh Cowherd, Margaret Dytz Dalton, Mary Elizabeth Danforth, Lillian Askew Gaines, Nora Belle Golladay, Elizabeth Maud Hayes, Mabel Clair McShane, Rosa Logan Nourse, Kathleen Williamson Perkins, Lela May Wilson.

Messrs. William Henry Abbitt, George Harrison Cate, William Robert Cate, John Andrew Dotson, Henry Ide Eager, Thomas Daniel Roberts, Calvin Miles Thompson, Richard Herndon Waller, Oscar Lofton Mayes.

The balance of the program for the week follows:

Monday night, June 2.—At the First Baptist church at 8:15 eighth annual debate of Henry Clay Debating Society.

Wednesday morning, June 4.—At the Avalon at 10:30, Class Day Exercises.

The program for the annual debate to be held at the First Baptist church is as follows:

Resolved, That the Act of Congress establishing free passage for the American Coastwise Ships through the Panama Canal should be repealed.

Affirmative—Henry Eager, Herndon Waller and John Dotson.

Negative—Calvin Thompson, Will Cate and George Cate.

on South Main by Rev. Calvin M. Thompson, pastor of the First Baptist church. Co. D., under Capt. E. W. Clark, acted as escort and the pall bearers were: Thomas Smith, Albert Brownell, Thomas Kelly, Athol Bartley, Coleman Moore, Robert Henry, Howe Wallace and John Green.

LATHAM DAVIS

Had Arm Broken Last Saturday With Crank.

Latham Davis, son of Mr. L. H. Davis, who has learned to run his father's new auto, had his arm broken last Saturday while cranking the machine. The fracture was not serious, and Latham, who is a plucky little fellow, was out driving the machine the next day.

Serious Charge.

Evansville, Ind., June 1.—John Posey, a negro, was arrested here on the charge of attempting to assault a girl 9 years old. Posey formerly lived in Hopkinsville, Ky.

QUESTION SETTLED

Valuable Property To Be Sold By Young Men's Christian Association.

NEW ORGANIZATION ASSURED.

Another Campaign To Raise Funds To Be Made.

Hopkinsville is big enough, good enough and sufficiently enterprising to have an active Young Men's Christian Association, and she is going to have it.

A list of names for membership in the new organization yards long was secured a few weeks since in a rapid campaign, and another campaign to raise money is to be inaugurated before long.

A large meeting of those interested in the proposed new organization was held at the rooms of the H. B. M. A. last Friday night. The gathering was for business but the main question to be settled was what should be done with the building of the old organization.

One element was strongly in favor of selling the old building, provided its value could be received. Since the building was put up many years ago real estate on Ninth street has considerably advanced. Though the building has never been entirely completed it is today worth several thousand dollars more than it was ten or fifteen years ago.

Two corporations have been using it for offices for some time, they having sufficiently finished it for their uses. Now that, by action of the meeting last Friday night, the property is on the market, one would naturally conclude that they will become the purchasers. This, however, is merely hypothetical. But the property is valuable and will increase in value, as Ninth street is already one of the principal business streets, next, no doubt, to Main.

The element that favored this disposition of a question that has, from the very outset, stood in the way of reorganization of the Y. M. C. A., prevailed over another element that was opposed to selling the property, but to go ahead and complete the entire building and use it as was originally planned.

The vexed question, however, is to be settled, provided the gentleman named by the meeting can dispose of the property at a sum approximating its value. The committee named to sell the property is composed of F. W. Dabney, M. C. Forbes, George D. Dalton, Ira L. Smith and L. H. Davis. No better committee could have been selected. They know what property is worth and they are strong believers in the Y. M. C. A. movement.

Attorney John Stites, the secretary, was directed to correspond with other Y. M. C. A.'s and induce them to come here and lend their assistance in the coming campaign.

SUDDENLY KILLED

Mrs. Charles Miller Thrown From Buggy at Lafayette.

HORSE SCARED AT AUTO.

Son Injured and May Lose Use of One of His Arms.

Mrs. Charles Miller met her death at Lafayette last Sunday by being thrown from a buggy. Her son, who was in the buggy with her, was also thrown out and had one arm broken. When Mrs. Miller was thrown out her head struck a stone, with great force and she lived not longer than fifteen minutes. The impact was at the base of the brain and blood issued from her nose, mouth and ears.

Mrs. Miller, who lived between Roaring Spring and Cadiz, in Trigg county, with her son had driven to her sister's in Lafayette Saturday, where they remained that night and part of Sunday. Her sister, Mrs. L. W. Pendleton, has been ill for some time.

Just after Mrs. Miller and her son had started home they met Dr. Brandon in his automobile. As soon as the horse showed evidences of fright Dr. Brandon came to a dead stop, hoping that the horse would pass without running, but such was not the case, and the unfortunate occupants of the buggy were thrown out. Mrs. Miller was taken to the undertaking establishment of L. J. Purcell and everything possible done by the physicians to restore her, but she soon breathed her last. She is survived by her husband, two sons and one daughter, the latter being a student in McLean College this year.

DEAD AT NINETEEN.

Herschel G. Lacy Died Monday Of Tuberculosis.

Herschel G. Lacy died at the home of his brother-in-law, Mr. Henry Hurt, on West Seventh street, yesterday morning at 3 o'clock, in the nineteenth year of his age.

Symptoms of tuberculosis developed many months ago and finally he was compelled to take to his bed. Through six long weeks he grew weaker and weaker and everything that loving hands and faithful physicians could do for his restoration was unavailing and he quietly sank to rest Monday.

"Pete," as he was generally called, was a general favorite and he had scores of friends. He was a bright, vivacious young fellow and bade fair to develop into a good business man. He got into the race two years ago to win an automobile that was offered as a prize by one of our business men and came out easily the winner.

The deceased was a son of the late W. W. Lacy. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Henry Hurt, Mrs. Stanley West and two brothers, Messrs. Coley and Harry Lacy.

Funeral services will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at the residence of Mr. Hurt and the interment will take place in Riverside Cemetery.

Howell-Holmes.

Edgar Howell and Miss Grace Holmes, young people of near Empire, eloped to Clarksville and were married Saturday.

BIG BUILDING WILL GO UP

Company Formed to Erect Long Needed Apartment House.

SQUARE BACK OF LATHAM

Capital Stock $25,000, Half of Which is Already Taken.

Articles of incorporation of the Hopkinsville Apartment Company was filed last Saturday. The incorporators are: A. D. Noe, Sr., of this city, A. G. O'Kain, of Nashville, Frank M. Fisher, of Paducah. The capital stock is fixed at $25,000, divided into shares of $100 each. The indebtedness at no time is to exceed the capital stock.

The site is the vacant lot east of Hotel Latham, fronting on Seventh, Liberty and Sixth street. The present plan is to divide the big 2-story building into eighteen apartments. There will be single rooms, and suits of from two to five rooms. It will be lighted by electricity, hot and cold water throughout, gas for cooking and a large number of bathrooms. Everything will be modern and up-to-date.

Half the stock has already been taken and as soon as the other stock is subscribed for work on the building will begin.

John Metcalfe, who sold the valuable property to the company had contemplated doing exactly what the new company is to do.

POSTOFFICE BUILDING

Indications That Work Will Be Soon Begun.

Charles Ducker and Mrs. Anna Gunn, who sold their property to the Government on which the postoffice building is to be built, received notice Saturday to vacate the property by the 8th of July. This looks like work will be begun pretty soon.

Mr. Ducker has bought a lot on Bryan street and will move his house as soon as he can secure a permit and make a contract.

The house belonging to Mrs. Gunn which is a two-story frame building, is now occupied by Mrs. George M. Steele as a boarding house. We have not heard of what disposition she will make of the building.

The small piece of ground on Liberty street in the rear of Mr. Ducker's lot has been vacant several months.

BIG SUIT

Of Kentucky Woman Against Railroad Company.

Mrs. Samuel Scott, of Owensboro, has filed in Circuit Court at Princeton, Ind., a suit for $16,000 against the Big Four Railroad Company for damages alleged to have been done during the recent flood. She owns 500 acres in Wabash bottoms, and alleges that when the railroad embankment broke on the line between Evansville and Mt. Carmel, Ill., the flood rushed across her land in a very destructive manner and left a deposit of barren sand one to four feet deep, which has rendered many acres of the land absolutely worthless.

Dr. Abbot, the scientist in charge of the astronomical observatory of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, says that our unusually warm winter and late spring was due to the volcanic dust thrown out of Mt. Katmai, in Alaska, during its eruption last summer. The dust was caught in the winds, was blown carelessly about without a chance of falling, except in almost imperceptible quantities, and formed a species of coverlet above the surface of the earth which prevented the accustomed escape of the summer heat, and held it so that it modified the winter cold.

NEARLY BLOWN UP

"Forgotten" Incident in Life of Late Admiral Eaton.

Navy Officer's Story of How the Supply Ship Resolute, Loaded With Explosives, Almost Rammed
the Battleship Oregon.

"Lieut. B. B. McG., who is said to be a lieutenant of the United States navy, although the initials are fictitious, is the author of a remarkable article in which he tells how the naval supply ship Resolute, commanded by the late Rear Admiral Joseph G. Eaton, narrowly missed ramming and blowing up the famous battleship Oregon during the Spanish war, says the New York Times. Mrs.
Jennie May Eaton, widow of the admiral, is now at Plymouth, Mass., awaiting trial for the murder of the former naval officer.

In his story of the Resolute and the Oregon, which appears in the April issue of Master, Mate and Pilot,
"Lieut. B. B. McG." gives as his reason for the telling of the incident the recent death of Admiral Eaton, which he adds "unseals the lips of those of us who served under him when he was commander of the U. S. S. Resolute."

The story is creating a lot of talk in the navy, not only because of its nature, but also because of the notoriety that has attended the death of Admiral Eaton and the subsequent indictment of his widow for his murder.

Lieut. B. B. McG. says:
"It was on June 5, only a few days after the Oregon anchored off Santiago and her memorable voyage had become history, that the Resolute, carrying mail for the fleet, hove in sight. In our forepeak and against the fore bulkhead were piled forty mines, each containing 500 pounds of gun cotton. Twenty charges for the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius, containing 10,000 pounds of gun cotton, were on the deck below.

"Just aft of this was 300 pounds of gunpowder for the great guns of the fleet. Still farther aft were thousands of rounds of rapid fire ammunition for six-pounders and four six-inch guns, while on the upper deck, in one of the cabins, was 250 pounds of dry gun cotton and detonators for the war
heads of torpedoes—the full complement of twenty-five battleships.

"We steamed down the line of blockading ships and delivered orders
and mail to the vessels of the squadron. Arriving at the western end of the line, we came about and steamed back to the eastward toward Guantanamo, which was our station. The Oregon at this time was near the center of the line, about opposite the harbor entrance, lying with her bow toward the shore and rolling heavily in the swell raised by a monsoon. We steamed full speed toward her, pointing for her about midships.

"I was off duty and chanced to be standing aft, near the engine room
hatch. Near me Past Assistant Engineer Louis E. Bernier was leaning against the rail, gazing ahead of the Oregon. It looked as if we would pass her very close if we sheered off at once; but we held straight on our course, heading right at her.

"Lieut. Bernier had been chief engineer of the Resolute—she was formerly the Yorktown—for many years,
so he knew to an inch what she could
and would do under any condition.

"I saw him look hard ahead, then jump for the engine room hatch and disappear. But a moment or two elapsed; we were rapidly nearing the Oregon, and still we held straight toward her. Then suddenly the whole ship trembled convulsively as the engines reversed at full power.

"An instant later, from the bridge came the signal: 'Full speed astern.'
With the helm hard over we swung past the stern of the Oregon so close that I could have tossed a biscuit aboard the battleship, which looked like a vast tide rock awash in the waves.

"The men who lined the rail on the Oregon apparently thought nothing of the closeness of our passage, as if they deemed no unarmored craft
could do her any harm, but the white-faced officers on our bridge heaved one great sigh of relief. They had faced annihilation, utter, absolute.

"Until now this remarkable story has never been made public. Commander Eaton may have reported the incident to the navy department, but if he did so his officers were not so informed. Naturally, we were careful to 'forget' all about it."

The Naval Register does not show
the name of any officer, active or retired, whose initials are "B. B. McG."

Odd Expressions Overheard.

"Say! If brains were ink, you wouldn't have enough to dot an 'i.'"
"This steak cuts like an infringement on the Goodyear patent."

"Jones is the heaviest depositor
in the bank—he weighs over 300 pounds."

"Gee! that girl's smile would ring
a door bell in the next block."

"Credulous! Why, that woman would believe a dentist when he said he wouldn't hurt her."

"When I arrived at home there was the minister sitting on a chair
and three ladies."

"With his income he had no more excuse for being in debt than the letter 'b.'"

"Blank is such a loafer, he actually rises early so that he can put in a full day at it."

GIRL NEEDS A MATE

Young Woman Has Profession
She Cannot Practice.

Wireless Operator, Only One of Her
Sex Who Possesses Government License—Must Be Two Operators in Same Quarters.

Margaret A. Donahue, a demure blond miss of twenty, is a living example of the fact that in these progressive times a woman can perfect herself in a trade or profession at which she may not practice. Miss Donahue is the only woman wireless operator in the United States possessing a first-grade government license, and yet she may not receive or send wireless messages for pay for the reason that she is the only woman wireless operator in the United States.

But if there should be another wireless operator of the female sex possessing a government first-grade license, both that young woman and Miss Donahue would be in position to draw salaries forthwith. As a wireless operator Miss Donahue has nothing just now but glory.

The reason lies in the laws governing the human equipment of wireless stations aboard ship and ashore which were passed last summer after the Titanic disaster. These laws provide that there must be at least two wireless operators in each station, and that these operators shall occupy quarters within touch of the wireless room, and that one or the other shall be on duty
at all times.

Obviously Miss Donahue cannot be assigned to share a ship or shore station with a man. And that is why she is anxious that another ambitious girl
may learn the wireless telegraphy business.

There are thousands of woman telegraphers on land wire lines, but all these operators have to know is how to pound a key and take a message from the sounder. In wireless telegraphy it is necessary that the operator be fully grounded in knowledge of the apparatus and electricity. Wireless telegraphy is a complicated development constantly passing through stages of improvement.

Miss Donahue became interested
two years ago while on a visit to Atlantic City. The wireless station on Young's pier attracted her and she was soon spending much of her own time and the time of the operators in patient investigation. Although she had never before been interested in telegraphy or electricity, the idea of propelling messages through the ether fascinated her and she determined to make herself proficient in the fascinating work.

Two months ago Miss Donahue traveled from Boston to Florida and back on a steamer equipped with wireless.
On that trip she learned the alphabet
and, with the permission of the operator, flashed occasional halting signals
to other ships or shore stations.

On her return to Boston she entered a school of telegraphy and qualified as an operator in record time.

She took a post-graduate course, as it were, in the station of a signaling company, on the roof of the Boston
Board of Trade building, and before long was proficient enough to handle regular messages between Boston and the Bush Terminal in South Brooklyn.

Miss Donahue passed the necessary examination for a government license
at the Boston navy yard last February.
Officials of the signaling company, who had watched her progress with interest, were anxious to give her a station,
but the regulations would not permit,
and until another woman wireless operator qualifies, or Miss Donahue marries a male wireless operator—which she might do; there's no telling—she must perform practice her profession
without monetary return.

Miss Donahue was born in Kenmore,
County Kerry, Ireland, the native
place of the "Big Tim" Sullivan clan of New York and Boston. She was brought to this country when a baby and is a graduate of the Boston schools.

CROWDS GREET CHAUTAUQUA TRAIN FROM CHICAGO TO DIXIE

Schools Along Route Dismiss and Both Children and Parents Gather at the Railway Depots.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM IS SHOWN EVERYWHERE

Speeches Made and World-Famous Band Plays—The Event of Particular Interest Here Because of the Chautauqua in Our City This Season.

BY W. FRANK M'CLURE.

The first train of its kind ever run in this or any other country—the Redpath Chautauqua Special de luxe from Chicago to Dixie Land, recently reached its destination at Albany, Ga., after being greeted by thousands of people in the many towns and cities enroute. In fact, the demonstration everywhere was little less than remarkable and illustrates how firmly the foundations of our great American forum—the Chautauqua, is embedded in the hearts of the people of the South and Middlewest.

Covered with banners and laden with talent, the Redpath Chautauqua Special left the LaSalle Street Station, Chicago, over the C. & E. I. at 10 A. M. on Tuesday, May 20, amid the waving of flags and the cheers of many who had come down to see the train leave.

There were five cars, including a diner and an observation car, and, besides the usual train force, a special representative of the railroad was on board to assist in making the trip a pleasant one in every detail.

There were seventy-two people on board. Besides these more than half the Chautauqua program, including the Ben Greet Players, the Grand Opera Company, and other organizations had preceded the special train by several days.

Among those on the special train were Bohumir Kryl—world-famous cornet player and band director, and his band; Opie Read, the renowned author and lecturer; Laurant, the magician, and his assistants; the Barnard Orchestra; the Mozart Trio; Charles Edward Varney, the lecturer; Harry P. Harrison, president and general manager, of this entire Chautauqua System; J. P. Young, treasurer; W. F. McClure, editor of the Lyceum News; C. A. Shaw, manager of the Redpath Musical Bureau; Wm. Padgett, manager of the Lyceum Magazine; A. T. Stearns, secretary and treasurer of the printing company which prints vast quantities of Redpath Chautauqua publications.

The train was en route to the Albany (Ga.) Chautauqua, the first Chautauqua on this circuit of 110, which had already opened three days before. It was scheduled to stop at all places en route where Chautauquas are to be held later, and word was sent ahead announcing the time of its arrival.

Reporters and photographers were in the crowd at every stop, and nearly a hundred negatives were made of the train in three days.

The first stop was at Vincennes, Ind. On account of rain the trip up-town in autos at this time was abandoned and the band played to the crowd assembled under the cover which sheltered the depot platform.

At Princeton, Ind., automobiles were waiting and within ten minutes

School Children Watching the Train at Earlington, Ky.

after the train stopped the band was playing at a central point in the main business section with not only the sidewalks but the roadways crowded with conveyances and people on foot.

At Evansville, Ind., the train stopped over night. Opie Read, prominent member of the Chicago Press Club, was entertained here by the Evansville Press Club.

Seven a. m. the next morning saw the special train again on its way over the L. & N. road, and a short time thereafter the train pulled into Henderson, Ky., where, as in the case of both Vincennes and Princeton, Redpath Chautauqua was held last year. In spite of the early hour many people were at the depot, including a reporter and a photographer. Not a few of the people present were in wagons and other conveyances, which indicated that they had driven in from the surrounding country.

An hour later the train pulled into Madisonville, Ky., which also had a Chautauqua in 1912. The biggest crowd thus far on the trip greeted the party here. The number was roughly estimated by many at a thousand and from here on at all stops in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Georgia the crowds numbered into the hundreds.

To get a better view many people were on the second and third story windows of the business blocks.

Three miles further on at Earlington the schools had dismissed and the children in a body were at the depot. The people here attend the Redpath Chautauqua at Madisonville. One of the accompanying photographs shows the school children gathered at the train. Here again the band played and the members of one of the Chautauqua crews, mostly college men, gave a Chautauqua yell—a typical college yell—and ended with the words: "What's the matter with Earlington? She's all right!"

The next stop was at Hopkinsville, Ky. The crowd which assembled at the depot here is illustrated only in part in the accompanying photograph. After the band had played Charles Edward Varney addressed the people from the rear of the observation car, congratulating them on their fine

Greeting the Chautauqua Party at Columbia, Tenn.

Chautauqua spirit and telling them something of the program which was to come to their city later on.

Telegrams had been sent ahead to Nashville, Tenn., to have lunch at noon ready at the depot dining room for the entire party. Nashville is Opie Read's boyhood home.

After lunch the next stop scheduled was Columbia, Tenn., where a Chautauqua was held last year and where enthusiasm is unbounded. Autos transferred the party to the main part of the town. Congressman L. L. Padgett introduced Mr. Varney, who, following the playing of the band, spoke amid great applause.

The next stop was at Pulaski, Tenn., where the assembly gathered about the monument of Sam Davis. Sam Davis, it will be recalled, was a spy who was captured during the war. He was offered his freedom if he would divulge the name of the one who gave him the plans and information in his possession. He refused to do so and was sentenced to be hung on the public square at Pulaski. Just before the hanging took place he was given a final chance to retract his position, but replied that although he had a thousand lives he would lose them all before he would betray a friend or the confidence of his informant. A monument was erected to his memory, and it was about this historic monument that the Chautauqua crowds gathered.

The train arrived at Decatur, Ala., shortly after 6:00 p. m. Twenty-eight autos met the train and carried the party to New Decatur and return. The band played in both towns.

The next stop was at Birmingham, Ala., where the party arrived shortly after 10:00 p. m. A photographer was on hand at the depot and took a flashlight of the party.

Thursday morning at 5:30 the train pulled out of Birmingham after a counting of noses to see that no one was left behind. En route to Americus in many places the people came out to see the special train dash past. At Americus the Barnard Sextette gave a brief concert from the platform of the observation car. The canvas top of the big Chautauqua tent could here be seen a short distance from the depot.

Smithville entertained the party for dinner. When the long train pulled into Albany there was a tooting of locomotives whistles, and friendly greetings from the crowds. A long line of automobiles met the party. The ladies were given enormous bouquets of magnolia blossoms, and the procession started for the Chautauqua grounds. Householders stood at doors and windows along the route waving

Greeting the Chautauqua Train at Hopkinsville.

Chautauqua flags and pennants. Vehicles lined both sides of the street gay with flags and Chautauqua streamers.

Upon the arrival at the great auditorium, the audience had already gathered and practically every seat was taken for the matinee. The program of the afternoon was rendered by Kryl and his band and met with enthusiastic applause.

This great trip will linger long in the memories of both those on board and those in the towns through which the train passed.

Before leaving Chicago H. P. Harrison, manager of 110 Chautauquas, was presented with a rabbit's foot by his friend, Dr. J. W. Shedd of Chicago. It was mounted in silver and bore Mr. Harrison's initials. The rabbit is one that Dr. Shedd had killed in the spruce forests in Minnesota at the time that Congressman Mann of Illinois and Congressman Ryan of Buffalo were making a congressional investigation of the spruce forests. Dr. Shedd also being a member of the party. Mr. Harrison wore this foot as a watch fob throughout the trip.

Comments of World-Famous Men on the CHAUTAUQUA

Keep in Mind that Our City is to Have a Great Seven-Day Chautauqua
Program This Season.

Hon. Theodore
Roosevelt, Ex-
President of the United States,
says:

"The chautauqua is the most distinctively American thing in this country."

Hon. William Jennings Bryan,
Secretary of State, says:

"The chautauqua affords one of the best opportunities now presented the public speaker for the discussion of questions of interest to the people. The audience is a select one and always composed of the thoughtful element of the community, and as they pay admission they stay to hear. I believe that a considerable part of the progress that is now being made along the line of moral and political reforms is traceable to the influence of the chautauqua."

Dr. Frank W. Gunsaulus, the World's Greatest Preacher
and President of Armour Institute of Technology, says:

"The chautauquas have become a great people's university. They are among the greatest feeders for our colleges and universities. He further states that ten per cent of the students in the institution of which he is president, Armour Institute, owe their presence to the chautauqua influence."

Hon. Champ Clark, Speaker of the National House of Representatives, says:

"A great many newspaper wits shoot their shafts at chautauqua lecturers, and certain purse-proud editors undertake to make it a sin for a public man to lecture for pay. They think it the height of sarcasm to refer to a public man as a chautauquan. There is one great virtue in chautauqua money. It is clean money. You do not have to explain where you got it. If a man does not desire to go to hear a lecture, there is no law to compel him to do so. . . . The chautauqua has been a powerful force in directing the political thought of the country, which is largely sociological in these latter days. . . . I defend the chautauqua and the chautauqua lecturer, with whom I have been associated, because they constitute as fine a group of men and women as can be found among the splendid citizenship of America. I have a deep and abiding interest in them, and bid them a hearty godspeed in their work."—From The Arena.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear.
There is only one way to cure deafness,
and that is by constitutional remedies.
Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect
hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition,
hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.
We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by

BIRD BOOK ISSUED

Agriculture Department Publishes Valuable Work.

Farmers Are Informed That All the Winged Creatures Are Helpful in Destroying Pests That Injure Crops—All Are Voracious.

Washington.—"Fifty common birds of farm and orchard" is the title of one of the most remarkable bulletins that have been issued from the department of agriculture for a long time. The first edition is chiefly for distribution to members of congress, but the bulletin is of such general interest that it is likely to run through many editions and take a place with the department's famous "Horse Book" as one of the classics of agriculture.

The bird book consists largely of pictures, but, as the introduction says,
these are given prominence for a specific purpose. They are small color drawings, made by an artist who is also an ornithologist. The picture is used in each case as an identification of the bird, and the 250 words of text that accompany the picture relate merely to the bird's habits and range
and the character of its food.

Dr. Henry Henshaw, chief of the biological survey, from which the book is issued, says that the records
it contains are the result of the examination of about 50,000 bird stomachs by the experts of the survey in twenty-six years. He adds, however, that these stomachs were obtained, so far as possible, from scientific collectors, because the birds themselves are too valuable a national asset to be destroyed when avoidable, even for the sake of getting data on which to base laws for their protection.

Dr. Henshaw says that the object of the book is to give farmers and far-

David F. Houston, Secretary of Agriculture.

mers' boys a ready reference publication by which they may tell at a glance which birds are valuable and which are harmful. It gives some figures which show what a large amount of good to agriculture birds do in destroying insects and eating weed
seeds.

He points out that birds are vocacious eaters and have to work indu-stiously not only for their own food, but for the food demanded by their ever-hungry nestlings. In this connection he points out that the stomach of a single unobtrusive field sparrow taken in New York contained three-quarters of an ounce of noxious weed seed. On this basis it could be calculated with fair accuracy that the sparrows alone in New York state destroyed annually $45 tons of weed
seeds.

Many of the other figures given are equally interesting and surprising.
The author says that nearly all birds
are useful either as insect or weed eaters. Even the birds of prey, like hawks and owls, that have a bad name among farmers, do much more good than harm.

In the case of a single owl's nest
there were collected from the neighborhood 3,000 skulls, mostly those of rodents, such as rats, mice and gophers.

"It will not be very long before the American Wireless Telegraph will encircle the globe,"
said a prominent
army officer.

"Very soon great
naval wireless towers will be constructed in the Panama Canal zone,
replicating the initial plant at Arlington, near Washington. When they are completed Washington will be in communication with the Pacific Canal zone, from where messages can be transmitted to the Philippines, Hawaiian Islands, San Francisco and across the American continent to the capital. Many of the smaller islands in the Pacific ocean
will also be connected by the wireless. Very soon experiments will be conducted at the Arlington station
and also on the Eiffel tower, in Paris to establish the longitude between the two countries. The work is of great importance, for when similar data are obtained by other nations the information will permit of the drawing of a true map of the world."

Newspaper Comment on Redpath Chautauquas

From Towns Where These Chautauquas
Were Held Last Year.

The Huntington, Ind., Herald
said: "General consensus in Huntington is that the chautauqua has been of great benefit both educationally and as an entertainment."

The Niles, Mich., Daily Sun
says: "It requires no words of ours to add to the volume of praise for the great chautauqua even-day course. Its value to the community as an educational and moral force cannot be measured in dollars and cents."

The Crawfordsville, Ind., Journal: "A canvass was made of the business portion of the city to-day, in which a large number of people competent to judge were asked their opinion of the chautauqua. Without exception, those interviewed said it was great."

The Maysville, Ky., Daily
Independent: "The people of Maysville who have had a touch of the chautauqua this year have surely enjoyed it. Some of the lecturers alone were worth the price of a season ticket."

The Vincennes, Ind., Commercial: "This year's program has been wonderful."

The Kendallville, Ind., News-
Sun: "Everyone is looking forward to next summer's week of pleasure."

The Goshen, Ind., News-Times
"The chautauqua is proving a great success and promises to become a permanent institution in Goshen. It furnishes good wholesome entertainment, and is a great educational and uplifting influence in the community."

Executor and Trustee's Sale

AT AUCTION OF DESIRABLE REAL ESTATE

In order to make final settlement of the estate of J.K. Forbes, deceased, I, as executor, together with the Planters Bank & Trust Co., as Trustee for Mary L. Givens, will offer for sale to the highest bidder on the following premises, Beginning at 2 O'clock p. m., Wednesday, June 4th, 1913, Rain or Shine:

First Sale

I will sell five houses and lots on east side of Walnut street, between the intersection of 21st street and main line of L. & N. R. R., just opposite Climax Mill. This property well located in manufacturing district, is easily rented or would make a fine manufacturing site, accessible to railroad. All of these houses in good repair.

LOT 1.--Nearest to overhead bridge; size of lot 130 feet frontage Walnut street to 10 ft. wide at back and 204 feet deep, 15 foot alley in rear. Five room house with outhouses in excellent condition, large cistern in yard, being lot No. 1 in Forbes Annex except that part cut off since by R. R. spur track.

LOT 2.--Adjoining lot 1, size 62 feet by 204 feet deep, alley in rear, 4 room house in good repair, with cistern, being lot No. 2 in Forbes Annex.

LOT 3.--Adjoining lot No. 2, size 62 feet by 162 feet deep, alley in rear, 4 room house, same as above. Nicely painted and being lot No. 3 in Forbes Annex.

These Lots High and Dry Above Street

LOT 4.--Adjoining lot No. 3, size 60 feet frontage by 127 feet deep, alley in rear, 4 room house in good repair, hydrant in yard, being lot No. 5, in Forbes Annex.

LOT 5.--Adjoining lot No. 4, size 60 feet frontage by 127 feet deep, alley on South side and rear, 4 room house with large cistern, being lot No. 6 in Forbes Annex.

Second Sale

I will next sell two houses and lots on west side Clay street, known as Forbes Cottages, as follows:

LOT 6.--One story cottage with basement, corner Clay and 11th Sts., with 10 foot alley in rear, lot 55x91; house is well built, in good repair, with modern conveniences. Will make a splendid home or a good piece of rental property.

LOT 7.--Adjoining and same as lot 6. Both of these residences are splendidly located, close to business part of city, with concrete sidewalks and sewerage, gas, electric lights and water already connected.

Third Sale

I will sell a vacant lot on west side of South Liberty street, now used as lumber and storage yard.

LOT 8.--Size 81 feet frontage Liberty street, 117 feet deep, located corner Liberty and 11th, in splendid neighborhood and the only desirable building lot this close in.

Fourth Sale

I next will sell the best piece of property in the list--the two story house and lot at 516 Virginia street, corner 13th St.

LOT 9.--Two story frame, metal roof, -- room residence, size lot 81 feet frontage Virginia street, 148 feet deep, with stable, servants' room and other outhouses, concrete sidewalks. House in splendid condition, hardwood floors, fine mantels, hot air heated and all other modern conveniences, and a splendid home or a good investment. Located in fine neighborhood, close in to business section.

LOT 10.--One story house and lot on west side Elm street, size lot 64x120, alley on south side. This property is located right to make a good home.

All of the property offered herewith in Hopkinsville is well rented to good tenants and term of existing leases will be made known on day of sale.

Terms:---One-fourth cash and balance in one, two and three years, with 6 per cent interest, payable semi-annually.

1913 City Taxes to be paid on all the property offered at this sale by the purchasers.

CHAUTAUQUA SEASON TICKETS.

In arranging to inaugurate this chautauqua this year the local committee bought 1,000 $2.50 season tickets, which will be sold while they last by them for $2.00 each.

When these tickets are exhausted no season tickets thereafter can be had for less than $2.50. Also, the price of season tickets will not be reduced from the first day to the close of the chautauqua.

The single admissions to the different sessions of this chautauqua aggregate more than $5.00, so it will pay you to buy a season ticket even after the program is half completed. For the single admissions to the respective entertainments see program.

Season tickets are non-transferable except within the owner's family.

CHILDREN'S TICKETS admit children aged six to fourteen years inclusive. Only child's tickets will admit children to the children's work.

ALMOST MISSED THE MEETING

Cow's Appetite for Fly Net Gave Farmer a Few Minutes of Decided Unpleasantness.

Last summer when the political campaign was at its height an Iowa farmer, when itching up preparatory to attending a meeting in town, could not find one of the fly nets. Coming around a corner of the barn he discovered part of the net protruding from the mouth of one of his cows. After considerable persuasion the cow was induced to part with the net, after which the farmer proceeded on his way to town.

Old-Time Window Smasher.

In the frantic search for an effective means of dealing with the suffragette raids, some one has dug up the following entry in the privy council book, preserved among the historic records of England:

"At St. James' the third day of April, 1543, the Earl of Surrey, being sent for to appear before the council, was charged by the said presence of a few and unseemly manner of walking in the night about the streets and breaking with stones of certain windows. He could not deny that he had practiced these evil doings, and submitted himself to such punishment as should be thought good. Whereupon he was committed to the tower."

The record further states that the noble earl had to do time, being incarcerated in the tower for one calendar month. He was ultimately liberated on his own recognizance of $1,000 to be of good behavior. A little later he was decapitated on Tower hill at the early age of thirty. This positively looks like a threat.—London Letter to the New York Tribune.

Guaranteed Eczema Remedy.

The constant itching, burning, redness, rash and disagreeable effects of eczema, tetter, salt rheum, itch, piles, and irritating skin eruptions can be readily cured and the skin made clear and smooth with Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment. Mr. J. C. Eveland, of Bath, Ill., says: "I had eczema twenty-five years and had tried everything. All failed. When I found Dr. Hobson's Eczema Ointment I found a cure." This ointment is the formula of a physician and has been in use for years—not an experiment. That is why we can guarantee it. All druggists, or by mail. Price 50c. Pfeiffer Chemical Co., Philadelphia and St. Louis.

Very Unusual. "Our town of Three Oaks is a remarkable town. It was named for three oak trees." "Other towns have been named for trees or rocks." "But we've really got three oaks."

Automatic Soothing. "When my husband became so agitated at the store, they gave him real business advice." "What was it?" "They told him, 'Bill, collect yourself.'"

Its Effect. "There was one study at school which generally made me swearing mad." "What study was that?" "Profane history."

Real Charity. "You say young Jobbs is a practical Christian. But how can you prove it?" "For one thing, he always dances with the wallflowers at a ball."

Ulcers and Skin Troubles.

If you are suffering with any old, running or fever sores, ulcers, boils, eczema or other skin troubles, get a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve and you will get relief promptly. Mrs. Bruce Jones, of Birmingham, Ala., suffered from an ugly ulcer for nine months and Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured her in two weeks. Will help you. Only 25c. Recommended by all druggists.

Cleaning Varnished Paint.

A painter who was preparing some much soiled varnished wood for a new coat of varnish began his work by a thorough washing with a strong mixture of ammonia and water. This removed the blackness from the wood—a banister, to be exact—then came a rubbing with sand-paper, a coat of shellac, and finally the new coat of varnish which completed the transformation.

The ammonia and water the painter used was purposely made very strong to remove the soiled varnish. "But," he said, "if you merely want to clean slightly soiled varnished wood, use about a tablespoonful of household ammonia in a gallon and a half of water. That will cleanse without destroying the varnish."

Idea of Riotous Living.

In a poor school in Bermuda, England, the master was dealing with the subject of the Prodigal Son. He described to the boys how the young man insisted upon having his share of wealth while his father was still alive; how he went away to a far country, and how he spent his money in riotous living. "Now," said the master, "what does that mean—spending his money in riotous living?" "Going rand about drinking from one public house to another," answered one scholar. "Hem!" said the teacher. "What do you say?" And he pointed to another boy. "Spendin' his money goin' to movin' picture palaces, sir, every afternoon and evenin'."

Well Matched.

A traveller in the west came across two men having a heated argument. The traveller drew nearer and heard: "What do you know about the Lord's Prayer? I'll bet you ten dollars you can't repeat the first line." "I'll take the bet," said the other man, and, turning to the stranger, asked him to hold the money. "Now, what is the first line?" asked the first one. "Now I lay me down to sleep." "You win," said the first man. "I didn't think you knew it."—Lippincott's.

Drew Up Receipt.

Two brothers, Michael and Daniel, started in business as jobbing carpenters. Their education was limited and they had no experience whatever in business affairs. However, they were good carpenters and had a host of friends in the neighborhood.

One morning a customer called at their shop to pay a bill, and having settled the account satisfactorily he demanded a receipt. Mike asked Dan to get the receipt. Dan offered some excuse, and finally Mike retired to a little room at the back, and after a very long delay emerged with a slip of paper in his hand, his hair all ruffled and his face as flushed as though he had been lifting a hundred-pound beam.

"Here is yer resato, sor. I'd rather put on a tin roof in July than write another."

The paper contained the following in boldly printed letters:

"We got our pay. Me and Dan."

"Dr. Thomas' Eclectic Oil is the best remedy for that often fatal disease—croup. It has been used with success in our family for eight years."—Mrs. L. Whitacre, Buffalo, N. Y.

Executioner of the Will.

Strictly speaking, it was only a police court, but to the little old lady who waited in and addressed the magistrate it must have been the high or appeal court or all our courts rolled in one.

"Are you the judge?" asked the porky little party.

"Well, not strictly speaking; but I'm the magistrate. What can I do for you, madam?"

"What I've come for," rattled on the old lady, "is for help in my trouble. I'm a widder. My husband died detested, and left three little infidels, and under his will I am appointed their executioner."

Still, where there's a will there's a way, and the magistrate passed her on to a lawyer who happened to be at hand.

RAISES A FATHERLESS FROG

Work of a Scientist Seems to Presage Discovery of an Entirely New Life Principle.

The "fatherless frog," "raised" by the eminent biologist, Prof. Jacques Loeb, was one of the many interesting exhibits at the recent International Congress of Hygiene and Demography. The frog, or rather the frog and a tadpole raised in the same manner, appear on exhibition in a glass jar, and attract a large amount of attention as presaging the discovery of a new life principle which, if it could be applied to other animals, would have startling results.

According to Professor Loeb's explanation of the frog's "birth," the animal was made to exist by submitting the egg of a female frog to chemical process.

The egg was what is known as a "sterile" one, and could not have developed naturally. Under Doctor Loeb's treatment, however, it passed through all the rudimentary stages and became a tadpole, then a full developed frog, perfectly healthy and possessing all the senses of a "natural" animal of the same class.

The process by which this frog was developed is known among scientists as "parthenogenesis," and is radically different from the process by which a German scientist recently claimed to have developed life by chemical means without aid of the male of the species. Professor Loeb, in speaking before the Hygiene and Demography congress, said that he hoped to carry his secret process still further, and predicted startling developments in the new science within a few years.

3-IN-ONE OILS.
CLEANS, POLISHES,
PREVENTS RUST

3-In-One is a light, pure oil compound that never gums. 3-In-One lubricates perfectly sewing machines, typewriters, bicycles, clocks, guns, lawnmowers—everything that ever needs oiling in your home or office. No grease. No acid. A little 3-In-One on a soft cloth cleans and polishes perfectly all veneered or varnished furniture and woodwork. Sprinkled on a yard of black cloth it makes an ideal dustless Darning Cloth. 3-In-One absolutely prevents rust on gun barrels, radio fixtures, bath room fixtures, gas ranges, everything metal, indoors or out, in any climate. It stays into the unseen metal pores and forms a protecting "overcoat" which stays on. Free 3-In-One! Write for it today for generous free bottles and the 3-In-One Dictionary of all kinds of uses for 3-In-One bottles. 10c (1 oz.), 25c (3 oz.), 50c (8 oz.), 1/2 pint (16 oz.), 1 quart (32 oz.). Also in new patented Handy Oil Can, 25c (3 1/2 oz.). At all Dealers.

Weak, Cold Spells.

Wilmington, N. C.—Mrs. Cora L. Ritter, of this place, says: "I used to have headaches, and blind dizzy spells, and weak cold spells went all over me. I had different doctors, but they were unable to tell me what was wrong, so I began to take Cardui. I am now all right, in good health, and better than I have been for 10 years." Cardui is a remedy for women, which has been helping sick women for nearly a life time. You can absolutely rely upon it. Other people have done the testing and you should profit by their experience. Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you? Begin taking Cardui today.

Pupils Recital.

The recital of Miss Clara Bonte's piano class at the Avalon last Friday night was one of the most delightful events of the week. Every number on the program, full of instrumental gems, was rendered in most consummate style and reflected the highest praise on the gifted instructor, who stands at the front among the pianists of the city, both as a performer and ability to impart her knowledge of the art to her pupils.

Bob Taylor Lives,

In the two bright and beautiful books just issued, "Lectures and Best Literary Productions," and "Life and Career" of Senator Robert Love Taylor, handsomely illustrated, you cannot hear again his voice or see the humorous curl of his lips, that convulsed a continent with laughter, but, within the covers of these volumes, are the pictures woven of his wondrous words, and, laughing through their sunny pages, are all of the inimitable stories which he told to the multitudes. In "Life and Career," pens of genius have traced his romantic life from its morning in "Happy Valley," through his young and roseate dreams, through stress and storm, through cheering throngs, and on into the waiting shadows, loved and laurel crowned.

We expect to sell millions of these books. First edition going fast.
